

Discover the old Caribbean at Cabier Ocean Lodge Grenada's Hidden Treasure

Cabier Beach, Cabier Ocean Lodge and Two Bays Villa & Studios

Cabier Ocean Lodge has been described as 'Grenada's hidden treasure' but you do not need to have a pot of gold to stay there. Cabier is near the village of Crochu on the east coast of Grenada, about 45 minutes from St George's and the airport.

Cabier Ocean Lodge and Two Bays are on a promontory surrounded by water on three sides. On one side is a perfect white sand beach with a clear calm sea, on the other a shallow bay, used only by a couple of small fishing boats and a family of pelicans. Ahead is the open sea where you can watch the waves breaking against the reef that protects our beaches and behind you can see the mountains covered with rainforest. There are no other hotels or buildings on the headland or beaches and it is in a completely natural environment, but with all the comforts that you might need.

We are fully open from early October to late August (outside this period we accept guests for self-catering only – at special reduced rates). High season is from December to the end of April but temperatures in Grenada remain fairly constant at 26 – 30 degrees all year round. Although the summer months are "rainy season" there is lots of sunshine as showers are usually short and often happen at night. August is Carnival time, when Grenadians and Grenada-lovers from all over the world return home for a week long party with stunning parades and lots of music and street food. There are other festivals and regattas throughout the year.

Cabier Ocean Lodge itself has 11 rooms including a two-bedroom fully equipped family apartment. All rooms are en suite and range from apartments and large superior rooms with cooking facilities to simple but comfortable budget rooms.

In addition, above and behind the Lodge on the promontory, is our premium accommodation, the simply elegant Two Bays Villa and two large Studios, with all furniture and fittings finished in sustainable hardwood and large deep shaded verandas.

Two Bays Villa has a double bedroom with a four poster bed, a sitting room, kitchen and bathroom and can intercommunicate with one of the Studios. Each Studio sleeps two people in four poster beds, has its own bathroom, fridge, cooking facilities and a large veranda. All rooms at Cabier have verandas with spectacular views. Air conditioning is available in the superior rooms and Two Bays but only needs to be used if nature is not doing its job with the constant cooling breeze coming off the sea.

We also have an indoor lounge and dining area with a large flat screen satellite TV and DVD player. There is wireless internet access in all rooms and we have two computers for guests to use. There is fishing equipment for guests to borrow. From July 2011 you can also swim in the new infinity saline swimming pool with stunning views over the ocean.

Cabier Terrace Restaurant

There is a terrace bar and restaurant overlooking the sea which is sheltered by mango trees. The restaurant serves breakfast, light lunches and table d'hôte dinner. An à la carte menu for lunch or dinner is also available on request.

We have a courtyard garden with comfortable chairs and guests can also sit on the headland where the lawn slopes gently down to the rocks and the sea or unwind in a hammock slung between the trees.

What to do at Cabier

Many of our guests want to do little more than float in the warm sea, sit outside their room or on the beach or laze in one of the hammocks in the headland garden. The more energetic can enjoy snorkelling in the sheltered waters round the headland and the off shore reef, or strolling along the paths that wind around the coast, perhaps accompanied by one or more of the friendly hotel dogs who are always ready to be borrowed for walk or a swim.

Nature lovers can see pelicans, frigate birds, egrets, herons and humming birds without stirring from their veranda. Bruno is happy to organise trips to the magnificent rainforest that covers much of Grenada, to see waterfalls, beautiful flowers, birds, butterflies, monkeys.

There are also trips to the capital St George's, which is the prettiest harbour in the Caribbean and has good shops and restaurants, to one of several rum distilleries and to the chocolate factory and gardens at Belmont.

We have an arrangement with the PADI dive shop down the coast at Prickly Bay for those who wish to dive the coral reefs and wrecks of Grenada. It is also possible to combine a stay at Cabier with a live-aboard trip round the Grenadines in a catamaran.

Cabier is run by Iris and Bruno Delvallée. Iris is German and Bruno is French but they met in London and so they both speak fluent French, German and English. They have many years experience of running restaurants and hotels. Bruno's cooking is a delicious fusion of Caribbean and European dishes, using local ingredients whenever possible, including the delicious locally caught spiny lobster. Iris runs the hotel and the bar and her rum punch is legendary.

How to get to Cabier and getting around

There are direct flights to Grenada from the UK (via BA, Virgin and Monarch), Germany, Canada and the US. It is also possible to fly from Barbados or Trinidad.

Although remote, Cabier is not difficult to reach. It is only a 45-minute taxi ride from the airport. We can arrange for you to pick up a hire car from the airport or from Cabier. For the more adventurous there is a bus service to Crochu Village, and then a one mile walk down the hill. There are also frequent buses from Crochu to and from the capital St George's, and our local town, Grenville which is 20 minutes away.

It is possible to book the whole of Cabier, including Two Bays, for up to 30 people at special rates and we can also arrange weddings and other family celebrations.

Please see the separate sheet for all room rates.
